

KEATING

Still, but not stopped

Black and White

Blame me for the sleepless nights
But blame yourself for falling in love
You promised me passion you gave me romance
Love always gives a second chance

It's all there for the world to see
All the truth all the dishonesty
Why hide behind an open door
It lights the candle to your soul

It's black and white it's wrong and right
It's far and near Love's everywhere

Now I can't sleep tonight
For some reason I can't get you off of my mind
I promised you passion I gave you romance
Now I'm begging for a second chance

Lead You Home

The Lights flicker out the tables have turned
All I have left is what I've learned

To say what you want to say what you need
But say what you really mean

I wanna stretch across the sea
Swim the ocean deep
Climb the mountaintop
Hope I never stop to dream

It's your beautiful smile
I think I'll stay here a while
I know that I'm safe with you

To say what I want to say what I need
To say what I really mean

When the road is hard
When the road is long
When the road is lost
I'll lead you home

Much To Say

Wishful thinking I'm lost in wishful thinking
You're not here I wish you were

Blissful dreaming Am I leaving?
You're not here I wish you were

There's much to say
Love takes me away
Like a song that I sing to you
Oh, Oh, Oh...

Wishful dreaming I'm found in wishful dreaming
You're not here I wish you were

Blissful dreaming Am I leaving?
You're not here I wish you were

How the tides have turned
What I take is what I've earned
All of this is what I've learned from you

Fading

It's been a while since I've talked to you
And now there are many things to say
Can silence be comfortable?
Can these thoughts go away?

Don't be afraid I can't bare to see you fading
Like the sun that I rarely see glowing
I won't say it's the end

Wave on your way out the door
And call to let me know you're okay
Hide in the shadows and stay
Out of everyone's way

Say goodbye and leave
Don't explain a thing
But your tears are all I see
Blue eyes crying

Okay

Can you give and take appreciate?
That it won't come back around

Can you bend and break learn from your mistakes?
And move on the next morn

Why do you cry all night?
But laugh all day
You forget and forgive then try to live
But your demons won't go away
(But your demons come out to play)

You will be okay

When you're wanting less you've been tried and tested
But there's always more
Take my second chance this circumstance
Won't tear me down no more

Stay

In a moment out of time the evening's sky
Come ablaze with fire you hold the light

You brought to me a joy I've never known
Poured the sun on all that I had torn

I'm waiting on the edge
I'm waiting on the edge
I'll be waiting in the end for you

Don't go away. Don't go away
You know I love you so
I want you to stay

Ceaseless storms they never seem to fade
The brilliant colors we have made

This fragment of a life we forced to grow
I'm letting go of all I've ever known

Bright Lights

It won't fall into place if it's not meant to be
Oh no, the jokes on me
Your guess is as good as mine
The questions always time
It's too far out of reach

It's hard to stay controlled, I got depth and I got soul
Oh I don't belong here
Anticipate the day so I play a patient game
But I keep moving on

Bright lights, dark nights I'm still here
Sunrise, blue skies I'm still here

I keep holding on who knows what will come?
It's quiet mystery
What is it that you see when you look at me?
I'm still but I have not stopped

Where do we go from here?
All this waiting's so unclear?

Circle

If you could do anything
No complications, no hesitating

If you could be anyone
All mistakes and imperfections come undone

We all want what we don't have
We wish for, we dream of and demand
Shake up the view inside
You might be surprised at what you find

If you could change anything
Poverty, celebrity your diamond ring

If you could change just one thing
Would it be nothing or everything

This circle where I stand could be the upper hand
Of something far more grand than anything
